

Participation in Extra-Curricular Activities Agreement

Extra-curricular activities are extremely important in helping children develop good working habits and life skills. Children involved in extra-curricular activities learn how to work as part of a team towards a common goal, leadership, time management, motivation and confidence. They can also learn valuable character traits such as pride, productivity, integrity and can also help children stay out of trouble.

This contract is a tool designed to encourage your child to participate in extra-curricular activities.
